Home Fellowship Questions

1. This weekend we took a quick look back at some of the events that took place in Paul's life and noted that he often had no clue what God was up to. Can you think of any occurrences in your own life when you too had no idea what God was up to?

2. Looking back over your sermon notes, which particular point or principle most challenged, confused or caught your attention?

3. Paul's life is a great example of how to handle life's ups and downs. How might his experiences and/or instructions in the following verses help you this coming year when you encounter one of those "I had no clue this was going to happen" experiences?

1 Corinthians 9:24-27

Romans 7:14-20

Hebrews 10:24-25

4. Psalm 23 is a well-known scripture that many have hung onto during difficult times. As you read this Psalm, what points of hope are we given in the midst of challenging times?

Is there one more important for you to hear than the others?

5. Looking back at the section in this week's sermon, "What to do when you don't have a clue" and our study, what caught your attention the most and why?

6. Throughout our study of Acts we've seen how Paul stayed focused on the right things regardless of his circumstances. As we look ahead, is there anything in the list below you'd especially like to focus on to help you spiritually?

- Extra focus on homework
- Time with God
- Time with family
- Prayer
- Serving others
- Using my gifts
- Giving
- Other
